GCE Student Guide

GCE Spanish will give you a fascinating insight into the Spanish language and culture. Whilst developing the ability to communicate confidently and effectively in Spanish in both speaking and writing, you will also learn about the contemporary society, cultural background and heritage of Spanish-speaking countries and communities.

The study of Spanish will significantly contribute to your personal development, will help you gain skills through independent study and research and widen career opportunities.

Why study Spanish?

If you have an interest and a desire to learn and experience the world around you then you will be well suited to this course. The AS units can be taken on their own as a stand-alone AS qualification which will provide you with a wealth of knowledge and competence in Spanish for use in employment, leisure and travel; however, if you wish to continue to specialise in Spanish at degree level or an equivalent, then you should continue with the A2 units and obtain the full A level Spanish qualification.

We live in an interconnected world where international and cross-cultural working relationships are commonplace and a key aspect of the global workplace. Being able to speak another language, understand other cultures and empathise with colleagues who are working in a different language are valuable skills for students and will broaden the range of possible career plans open to you.

Learning a language also gives students opportunities to develop confidence, independence, communication skills, presentation techniques and IT competence, as well as skills in research, evaluation and analysis that colleges, universities and employers value highly.
