

Managing Information

I can choose the best question for finding things out.

I am good at using what I have already learned to help me in my work.

I get good ideas by listening to other people.

I can make a plan so that I know what to do first and then what to do next.

I know where I can find good information.

I am good at putting information into words or pictures.

I can change my work so that other people can understand it.
